Investment Objectives and Policy

Lloyds Money Fund Limited 'the Company' is an open ended investment company registered in Jersey.

It is known as an Umbrella Fund because it can provide shareholders with a variety of investment options under the umbrella of a single Company.

The policy of the Company is to invest in deposits which are available on the euro currency markets (including deposits placed with Lloyds Banking Group) in order to achieve a competitive rate of return in capital terms so far as is commensurate with minimum risk to capital.

The Manager may not invest more than 10% of the assets of sterling currency Class with any one institution, including a member of the same group of companies as either the Manager or the Custodian. The figure may be regarded as 20% if the eligible institution has capital which has shareholders' funds of an amount most recently quoted in 'The Banker' magazine published by Financial Times Information Limited of US$1,000,000,000 or more. In addition the Manager will ensure that at least 35% of assets within sterling currency Class are realisable within fourteen days.

The paragraph above does not apply to a deposit of less than £1,000,000.

Each currency Class has a portfolio of deposits in their respective currencies and are therefore not subject to variations in exchange rates. At the Statement of Financial Position date only the Sterling Class was in existence.

Objective

The objective of the Company is to offer the individual and corporate investor a high degree of protection and access to wholesale money markets, whilst maintaining a competitive level of return and ready availability of funds.

Report of the Manager

Economic outlook

The Bank of England has warned there is evidence that risks it identified related to Brexit are emerging. The Bank has eased special capital requirements for banks, potentially freeing up £150bn for lending. Eight major banks have also agreed with George Osborne to provide more lending to households and businesses and the chancellor signed a letter with Barclays, HSBC, Santander UK, Virgin Money, Metro Bank, Royal Bank of Scotland, Nationwide and Lloyds for the banks to make extra capital available. The Bank's change to capital buffers could help if uncertainty from the leave vote causes the economy to slow down and banks to be more cautious.

Although Mr Carney made it clear that the economic risks were still very visible and indeed some, such as sterling's slump, were beginning to "materialise", preparation ahead of the referendum was now paying off and he used the word "positive" for some of the effects seen post the Big Vote.

Financial markets had remained stable, government and business borrowing costs even for the battered banks had fallen and the decline in the pound had provided a boost for exporters and businesses that earned revenues overseas. Investors may be concerned with profitability and economic growth, what they didn't seem so worried about was the resilience of the whole system, which can be a much more toxic issue as anyone who went through the 2008 crisis will attest.

The Financial Planning Committee ("FPC") said there were risks apparent in the commercial property market, with vital foreign inflows falling by 50% in the first three months of 2016. It also flagged concern over the high level of UK household indebtedness and the vulnerability to higher unemployment and borrowing costs for some households. House prices could also come under pressure, particularly if buy-to-let investors abandon the market.

The FPC said that banks were now well capitalised and that the Bank of England would postpone demands for £5.7bn of extra financing to be held on the banks' balance sheets, known as the "countercyclical capital buffer". The Bank would reduce the level of the buffer set to be introduced next year from the planned 0.5% of a banks' lending "exposure" to 0%. The 0% rate could be maintained until at least June next year. Given that banks leverage their lending, the FPC said the buffer reduction would allow banks to increase credit supply to households and businesses by £150bn. The FPC also said it was acting to reduce any "fragility" in the financial markets and was ready to move further if necessary.

The Financial Stability Report said that maintaining foreign investment, necessary to support the UK's historically high current account deficit, could become harder following the decision to leave the European Union because of a "prolonged period of uncertainty". The measures of the Bank of England ("BoE") are really about aligning the Bank's position in case the UK economy enters a downturn. Markets are going to be reassured by this pro-activity. The BoE is not waiting for anything bad to happen but rather acting in case it does. It also means that both halves of the BoE: the Monetary Policy Committee and Financial Policy Committee are pulling in the same direction.

UK Interest Rates

UK interest rates have been cut from 0.5% to 0.25%, a record low and the first cut since 2009. The BoE has also signalled that rates could go lower if the economy worsens and announced additional measures to stimulate the UK economy, including a £100bn scheme to force banks to pass on the low interest rate to households and businesses. It will also buy £60bn of UK Government Bonds and £10bn of Corporate Bonds. Governor Mark Carney said there was scope to cut the interest rate further. He said that a majority of the nine-member MPC backed another cut if subsequent data showed the economy was deteriorating.

Mr Carney also took a tough stance on banks and the introduction of its Term Funding Scheme. This will lend directly to banks at rates close to the new 0.25% base rate to encourage them to pass on the lower interest rates to businesses and households. The governor said that banks have "no excuse" not to pass on the lower borrowing costs to customers and will be charged a penalty if they fail to do so. The Bank also announced the biggest cut to its growth forecasts since it started making them in 1993. It has reduced its growth prediction for 2017 from the 2.3% it was expecting in May to 0.8%.

The decision to cut interest rates to 0.25% was approved unanimously by all nine members of the MPC and is the first change in interest rates since March 2009. The £60bn bond-buying programme, which increases quantitative easing to £435bn, was approved by a vote of 6-3, with Kristin Forbes, Ian McCafferty and Martin Weale preferring to wait until more concrete data is available rather than relying on surveys. The corporate bond-buying scheme was opposed by one member: Kristin Forbes.

The corporate bond-buying scheme will purchase up to £10bn of bonds issued by companies outside the financial sector. Only companies considered to be contributing to the UK economy will be eligible. More details of the scheme will be released in September.

The extensive series of measures was revealed with the central bank predicting that inflation would rise above its 2% target as a result of the falling value of the pound. The MPC meeting on 15 September will be the last one before it moves to only meeting eight times a year, meaning that they will meet again on 3 November, although it can call an extra meeting before then if it wants to.

A majority of MPC members said that if the economy performed as they expected in the coming months, they would support cutting interest rates again before the end of the year to their lowest possible level of "close to, but a little above, zero".

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the year ended 30 June 2016

1. The Company

The Company is domiciled and incorporated as a limited liability company in Jersey, Channel Islands, United Kingdom under the Companies (Jersey) Law 1991. It is listed on the Channel Islands Securities Exchange Authority and on the Malta Stock Exchange. Full details of the Company, Investment Objectives and Policy and Report of the Directors are stated on pages 2 to 6.

2. Basis of Preparation

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ('IFRS') on the going concern basis. The Company is an open ended investment Company which until 20 February 2015 comprised five currency classes, these being Australian Dollar, Euro, New Zealand Dollar, Sterling and US Dollar. Since the closure of the New Zealand Dollar, US Dollar, Australian Dollar and Euro classes of the Fund the Directors consider that preparing these accounts on a going concern basis remains appropriate.

The policies set out below have been consistently applied to all years presented and all share classes.

The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, as modified by the revaluation of financial assets and financial liabilities held at fair value through profit or loss and in accordance with the Companies (Jersey) Law 1991 and with the Collective Investment Funds (Recognized Funds) (Rules) (Jersey) Order 2003 (as amended). Jersey is not part of the United Kingdom ('UK') and the Company is not regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority ('FCA') or the Prudential Regulation Authority ('PRA') of the UK.

The capital of the Company comprises of one class of shares relating to a single portfolio ("Class") consisting of bank deposits, cash and other sundry assets and liabilities. These financial statements present the statements of financial position, statements of comprehensive income, statements of changes in net assets attributable to holders of participating redeemable preference shares, cash flow statements, notes to the financial statements, performance records and net asset value per share tables. At the Statement of Financial Position date there was one Class in existence; Sterling. The Directors may from time to time create further Classes (Funds).

The net assets attributable to holders of participating redeemable preference shares are classified as financial liabilities and therefore, in the opinion of the Directors, the Capital of the Company is only represented by the Deferred Shares. Details of Deferred Shares, Participating shares and Nominal shares are disclosed in Notes 3 and 13.

Significant accounting estimates and judgements

The Company makes assumptions and estimates that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year. Estimates and judgements are continually evaluated and are based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

The accounting policies deemed significant to the Company's results and financial position, based upon materiality and significant judgements and estimates, are discussed in the following notes. See Note 3 for further details on what are considered to be the significant accounting estimates and judgements.

3. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these financial statements are set out below. These policies have been applied consistently to all years presented, unless otherwise stated in the following text:

The Directors also monitor new standards and ensure that they are applied when relevant.

3. Adoption of new and revised IFRS's

3.1 Standards, amendments and interpretations effective for the current period

The following new standards, amendments and interpretations have been adopted in these financial statements.

Amendments to IFRS 10, IFRS 12 and IAS 28 Investment Entities: The Company has applied the amendments to IFRS 10, IFRS 12 and IAS 28 - Investment Entities for the first time in the current period.

The amendments address issues that have arisen in the context of applying the consolidation exemption for investment entities.

The Company did not control any entities during the period or the prior year and as a result, the investment entities amendments have had no impact on the Company.

Amendments to IAS 28 Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures: The Company has applied the amendments to IAS 28 Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures for the first time in the current period.

The Company had no Associates or Joint Ventures during the period or the prior year and as a result, the investment entities amendments have had no impact on the Company.

3.2 The following New and revised standards, amendments and interpretations have been published but are not yet effective:

- IFRS 9, 'Financial Instruments' (effective from 1 January 2018).
- IFRS 15, 'Revenue from contracts with customers' (effective 1 January 2017).

There are no other standards, interpretations or amendments to existing standards that are not yet effective that would be expected to have a significant impact on the Company.

Functional currency and presentational currency

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with IAS21 (functional and presentational currency). IAS21 defines functional currency as "the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates", and presentational currency as "the currency in which the financial statements are presented".

There is no change to the functional or presentational currency of the Sterling class, however, following the closure of the Australian dollar, Euro, New Zealand dollar and US dollar classes on 20 February 2015 the Directors agreed that from 1 July 2015 the functional and presentational currency of the Lloyds Money Fund Limited should be reflected in Sterling, as this better represents the primary economic environment in which the entity continues to operate.

Prior to 1 July 2015 the Directors had adopted US dollars as the functional and presentational currency.

Segmental reporting

The Company, at the statement of financial position date is organised into one main business segment, focusing on achieving returns by investing in sterling denominated bank deposits, all assets and liabilities are valued in sterling, the Company has no exposure to currencies other than sterling with the exception of the Capital of the Company which has a nominal value of US$0.01 per share (see note 3 - Share Capital).

The Company issues Shares which are allocated to the currency Class selected by the investor. A separate account is maintained for each Class, to which proceeds of issue, the income arising from those proceeds and expenses are allocated. Upon redemption shareholders are entitled to their proportion of the net assets held in the Class in which their Shares have been designated.

A Statement of Financial Position, Statement of Comprehensive Income, Statement of Changes in Net Assets Attributable to Holders of Participating Redeemable Preference Shares and Cash Flow Statement have been appropriately prepared for each Class as well as for the Company as a whole.

Foreign currency translation

Assets and liabilities are translated at the rate of exchange ruling at the statement of financial position date. The currency profits or losses arising on translation, together with currency profit or losses realised during the year, are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

Share premium and share capital transactions are translated into US dollars at the exchange rate ruling at the time of the transaction.

Cash at bank

Cash balances are current account balances held at call with a maturity of 3 months or less.

Receivables

Receivables are currency deposits with fixed or determinable payment dates. Receivables are recognised initially at fair value and are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method ('EIR'). This is a method of calculating the amortised cost of a financial asset or financial liability and of allocating the interest income or interest expense over the relevant year. The EIR is the rate that discounts estimated future cash payments or receipts through the expected life of the financial asset or financial liability, or, when appropriate, a shorter period.

Revenue recognition

Bank interest is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income on a time proportionate basis using the EIR method.

Share capital

- (i) The Deferred Shares have been subscribed for by the Manager and are 'non participating'. The holders thereof are entitled only to income arising on the assets represented by the Deferred Shares. These Shares are classified as equity share capital in the statement of financial position.
- (ii) Shares may be issued as either participating redeemable preference shares ('Participating Shares') or Nominal Shares. Participating Shares are redeemable at the shareholder's option and are classified as financial liabilities. Each holder of a Participating Share is entitled, on a poll, to one vote for each Participating Share held.
- (iii) Nominal Shares have been accounted for in accordance with the Companies (Jersey) Law 1991 and corresponding amounts have been included in receivables and financial liabilities.

Shares are deemed to be in issue at the date of allotment although if necessary declarations are not received by the Company, such allotment may be cancelled.

A Nominal Share will be created when a Participating Share is cancelled. A Nominal Share will be cancelled when a Participating Share is created until the number of Nominal Shares falls to zero.

- (iv) Both issued Nominal and Participating Shares have a nominal value of US$ 0.01 per Share.

Details of the Company's share capital and transactions during the year are shown in Note 14.

Share premium

The premium on issue and redemption of Participating Shares is accounted for within the Share premium account which forms part of the net assets attributable to holders of participating redeemable preference Shares. Upon redemption the premium payable is debited to the share premium account of each currency Class. In the event that redemptions during the year take the share premium account into a negative position, sufficient monies will be transferred from reserves to cover said position. Details are shown in Note 15.

Administration and audit fees

Administration and audit fees are allocated to each Class based on the average net asset values. As the Company is now only represented by Sterling Class, all administration and audit fees are borne by the Sterling Class.

Accrued income and expenses

Accrued income and expenses are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently stated at amortised cost using the EIR.

17. Taxation

In accordance with International Accounting Standard (IAS) 12 Income Taxes, investment income is shown gross of withholding tax. No withholding tax has been suffered by the Company during the year.

The Company is liable to be charged at a tax rate of 0% under Schedule D of the Income Tax (Jersey) Law 1961, as amended (the 'Income Tax Law') in respect of

- (i) the income or profits of any trade carried on by the Company in Jersey or elsewhere,
- (ii) any interest of money, whether yearly or otherwise, or other annual payment paid to the Company, whether such payment is made within or outside of Jersey,
- (iii) dividends and other distributions of a company regarded as resident in Jersey paid to the Company,
- (iv) income arising to the Company from securities outside of Jersey and
- (v) any other income of the Company that is not derived from the ownership or disposal of land in Jersey.

It is not expected that the Company will be in receipt of income charged to tax under any Schedule under Income Tax Law other than Schedule D. As such the Company is no longer subject to the payment of tax in Jersey.

18. Financial risk management

Strategy in using financial instruments

The Company's investment objective is to offer the individual and corporate investor a high degree of protection and access to wholesale money markets, whilst maintaining a competitive level of return and ready availability of funds. These objectives are achieved through the placement of cash deposits in the respective base currency of the Class. The holding of deposits and investment activities pursuant to these objectives involve certain risks. Events may occur that would result in a reduction in the Company's net assets.

The Company's assets and liabilities comprise financial instruments, which may include:

- Investments in fixed-interest bank deposits, held in accordance with the Company's investment policies and objectives; and
- short-term debtors and creditors that arise directly from its investing activities.

Set out on the following pages are descriptions of the principal risks associated with the Company's activities, together with the manner in which it manages these risks.

18. Financial risk management (continued)

Interest rate risk

The Company invests in fixed rate bank deposits up to a maximum maturity of six months. The maturity profile at the year end is disclosed in the statement of financial position. Any changes to the interest rates for fixed rate bank deposits available in the market may result in the Manager being unable to secure similar returns on the maturity of these deposits. In accordance with the Company's policy, the Manager monitors the Fund's overall interest rate sensitivity on a daily basis, and the Board of Directors reviews it on a quarterly basis.

At the year end all receivables were placed at fixed rates. All cash at bank was held on call in Lloyds Banking Group bank accounts.

Year end weighted average effective interest rate:

| Class | % |
|----------|------|
| Sterling | 0.38 |

The table below summarises the impact of increases/ (decreases) in the market interest rates on the cash assets held by the Company at 30 June 2016. The analysis is based on the assumption that the market interest rates increase/ (decrease) by 1% with all other variables held constant. This represents the Managers best estimate of a reasonable possible shift in the interest rates, having regard to historical volatility of those rates. The analysis also assumes that the movement in the portfolio is directly correlated with market interest rates.

Foreign currency risk

As shareholders invest in and redeem specific currency Classes the Company's aggregated statements of financial position, aggregated income statements, aggregated statements of changes in net assets attributable to holders of participating redeemable preference shares and aggregated cash flow statements are used for aggregation purposes only.

Counter-party risk

Certain transactions that the Company enters into exposes it to the risk that the counter-party will not settle on the investment after the Company and the Manager have fulfilled their responsibilities. The Company places deposits only with banks that have been approved by the Manager as an acceptable counterparty (see Note 7 for the credit rating of the institutions with which the deposits are held). In addition, limits are set as to the maximum exposure of each class (20%) to any bank that may exist at any time, these limits are reviewed regularly and are subject to annual renewal.

The risk to Shareholders is that we will not have enough cash to cover redemptions. To counter this risk each Fund's cash is managed to meet its liabilities. Where investments cannot be realised in time to meet any redemptions of Participating Shares, each Fund may borrow up to 10% of its value to ensure settlement of its liabilities.

| End of Year | Class | Cash Assets (base currency) | Cash 1% Movement in interest rate |
|-------------|----------|--------------------------------|---|
| 30.06.16 | Sterling | 32,976,164 | 329,762 |
| 30.06.15 | Sterling | 33,089,355 | 332,104 |

18. Financial risk management (continued)

Capital risk management

The net assets attributable to holders of participating redeemable preference shares are classified as financial liabilities and therefore, in the opinion of the Directors, the Capital of the Company is only represented by the Deferred Shares. Details of Deferred Shares are shown in note 3 and 14. Due to the nature and requirement for Deferred Shares the Directors have decided that no active capital risk management is required.

Fair value estimation

The fair value estimation required by IFRS 13 is not applicable to the Sterling Class as there are no financial instruments measured at fair value.

Liquidity risk

The main liquidity risk of the Company is the redemption of any shares investors wish to sell from time to time. To counter this risk the Company maintains at least 35% of each Class in deposits realisable within fourteen days.

In accordance with the Company's policy, the Manager monitors the liquidity position of the Sterling Class on a daily basis, and the Board of Directors reviews it on a quarterly basis. The liquidity profile is stated within the statements of financial position on pages 10 to 13.

The Manager may with prior agreement of the Custodian and Directors suspend the repurchase of shares for a period not exceeding 28 days.

The following table analyses the Company's financial liabilities into relevant maturity groups based on the remaining period at the statement of financial position date to the contractual maturity date. The carrying value of the liabilities approximates to fair value at 30 June.

There has not arisen in the interval between the end of the financial year and the date of this report, any other item, transaction or event of a material nature likely in the opinion of the Directors, to affect significantly the operations of the Company, the results of those operations, or the state of affairs of the Company, in subsequent financial years.
